They are some of the hardest working people that you will ever meet. They go home every night, dead on their feet.

Inpatients, outpatients, clinic patients, they are all the patients these people see. And yet everyday they come here, caring for their patients is where they will be.

They are caring, compassionate, patient, understanding and smart. They have mastered treating their patients down to an art.

They deal with endless questions, frustration, anger, death, and defeat. Yet their dedication and expertise is something that can't be beat.

They help you through one of the hardest times of your life. They are there to comfort you when the doctors words cut you like a knife.
They explain over and over the things you don't understand. I think GOD selected these people himself for they are a special brand.

If you are thinking the quality of these people must be somewhere in a bible verse If its not it should be, please meet the LVAD nurse.
